Automatically Learning Topical Content

Presented March 15 at BibleTech:2013

Continued work on the Logos Controlled Vocabulary (BibleTech:2010) has produced a unique collection of topic-aligned content across more than 50 different Bible dictionaries, encyclopedias, and topical indexes in both English and Spanish. This presentation will describe the information we're learning automatically from this content, including determining concept importance, associating concepts with Bible references, extracting and associating names and descriptive terms for concepts, and relating concepts to each other
